CAPITAL MARKETS DAY “CONSTRUCTION BUSINESSES”

Bouygues is holding an Investor Day in Paris today dedicated to its Construction businesses. Within the Group’s portfolio, the construction businesses are the main contributor to results; tying up the least amount of capital, they generate a very high level of cash and also offer a resilient model with a steady generation of free cash flow.

The objectives of this investor day are:

- To share the Group’s vision of the construction sector and of the city of tomorrow and to present the strategy of its three construction businesses: Bouygues Construction, Bouygues Immobilier and Colas;
- To focus on two strategic topics: the maximization of the value of industrial assets at Colas and the leadership of Bouygues in urban design and development, in particular sustainable neighborhoods and smart cities, and in smart road and smart mobility solutions;
- To show, in a construction sector undergoing complete transformation due to digital and technological revolution, how the Group anticipates and innovates to maintain its leadership in its three businesses.

The Capital Markets day presentations will be available on www.bouygues.com
