Issy-les-Moulineaux, 18 June 2015

Le Chemin, France's first care home for people under 60 with Alzheimer's, has just been inaugurated at Cesson, to the east of Paris, in a ceremony attended by Marisol Touraine, Minister of Social Affairs, Health and Women's Rights, Ségolène Neuville, Minister of State for Disabled People and the Fight against Exclusion, Olivier Chaplet, Mayor of Cesson, and Franck Hélyary, Executive Vice-President, Residential Property for the Paris Region at Bouygues Immobilier.

Comprising six residential units, each with seven rooms, and five daycare units, the home provides all the resources necessary to care for people with Alzheimer's, including a balneotherapy pool, an external multipurpose room, a fully-equipped kitchen, a laundry and rooms for therapy workshops. Built for LogiRys, it is operated by the Association des Etablissements du Domaine Emmanuel (AEDE). The home is located in a mixed-use neighbourhood developed by Bouygues Immobilier, creating social bonds and redefining the surrounding area, which includes 69 non-controlled housing units and 36 social housing units.

Franck Hélyary, Executive Vice-President, Residential Property for the Paris Region at Bouygues Immobilier, said: "We are proud to have been able to develop this care home, the only one of its kind in France, because it reflects Bouygues Immobilier's commitment to society. We hope it will be the first of many more which will help to reinforce the bonds of community and make cities places more desirable and community-oriented."
