Bouygues Telecom boosts its 4G coverage and now covers 75% of the population

Bouygues Telecom is continuing its strategy of investing in its mobile network and now covers 75% of the French population, equating to 47 million people.

Thanks to the work of its teams, nearly 300 more municipalities of over 2,000 inhabitants are now covered by 4G.

In keeping with its commitment to ensure everyone enjoys the best digital experience, Bouygues Telecom will cover 82% of the population by end-2016 and aims to cover 99% by 2018.
