

REGULATED INFORMATION

LIQUIDITY CONTRACT

LIQUIDITY CONTRACT

Paris

09/07/2019

On 17 July 2013, Bouygues retained Kepler Cheuvreux (formerly Kepler Capital Markets) to execute a liquidity contract relating to the ordinary shares of Bouygues (ISIN code: FR0000120503) admitted to trading on Euronext Paris.

Bouygues and Kepler Cheuvreux signed amendment No. 1, on 21 February 2019, and amendment No. 2, on 5 July 2019. The terms of the liquidity contract, as amended by amendments No. 1 and No. 2, are consistent with the standard liquidity contract produced by AMAFI (the French Financial Markets Association).

The liquidity contract is renewable automatically every six months and may be suspended on the terms specified in Article 5 of the aforementioned AMF Decision or at the request of Bouygues. The contract may also be terminated by Bouygues at any time without notice, or by Kepler Cheuvreux subject to a 30-day notice period.

On 5 July 2019, the date on which amendment No.2 to the liquidity contract was signed, the assets shown on the liquidity account were:

- Cash: €6,960,865.71
- Securities: 178,500 Bouygues shares

Pursuant to amendment No.2, Bouygues will make a further contribution of €7,241,201.40 to this.